!Xaus Lodge is situated in a remote desert. This means that many of the luxuries of modern life are limited or unavailable.

Water is an extremely scarce resource. It is hard and saline and drinking water is created through a reverse osmosis process. Please use this precious asset sparingly. Because linen cannot be washed in this saline water it is not changed every day, and there are no guest laundry facilities.

The lodge is equipped with a generator. In order to limit the environmental impact, the generator operates for 2.5 hours in the morning (07h30 to 10h00) | 1 hour in the afternoon (13h00 to 14h00) | 4.5/5 hours in the evening (17h30 to 22h00/22h30) . Rooms have limited solar/battery electricity that powers lights & fans at night when the generator is off.

This means no TVs, radios, electronic devices or electric kettles and espresso machines. What it does mean is wonderful hours of silence, and an opportunity to unwind from day-to-day life.

Telecommunications signals don't reach the Lodge. No cell phone, Wi-Fi, telephone or TV signals. The Lodge and the vehicles have 2-way radios, and management has a satellite phone for emergencies. The joy of visiting !Xaus Lodge is that you will be 'off the grid'.

Supplies – especially food and drink - are trucked in from Upington – a 720km round trip. While we do try to stock as well as possible there are occasions when supplies run out, and we cannot restock overnight. Our meals are carefully planned and cooked based on locally available, fresh food, using the best possible ingredients we can source. While the menu is fixed do tell us about your specific dietary requirements and dislikes before arrival so that we can adjust your meals accordingly.

LIVING IN A LAND OF SCARCITY – INFORMATION FOR RESPONSIBLE TRAVELLERS

ACCOMMODATION ★★☆☆

!Xaus Lodge, a Fair Trade Tourism certified destination, offers a remote, tranquil desert experience for guests looking for total isolation, to be immersed in the environment and for an opportunity to interact with members of the resident Bushman community working at the craft school. It is important that guests are aware that whilst !Xaus Lodge is comfortably appointed with a high standards of service, it is nevertheless “A place to experience not merely observe”. It offers a unique experience and is not just a place to stay overnight.

The lodge comprises 12 individual chalets accommodating 24 guests, and a central lodge building. Communal facilities include a lounge, craft shop, dining room, central viewing deck and Lapa. Guests are accommodated in en-suite chalets each with its own deck overlooking the waterhole on the pan. They have Twin or King beds, high quality mattresses and linen, with winter sheets and hot water bottles for the cold months and ceiling fans for the hot months. Bedside tables with bedside lamps, wardrobe, writing table and chair, luggage rack and floor rugs complete the furnishings.

The chalets are not air-conditioned. Traditional methods, using shade and damp cloths as means of keeping cool in this environment, are explained to guests. There are no hairdryers in the individual chalets because of the limited supply of electricity, but available on request.

Bathrooms have a large shower, vanity and separate flush toilet. We provide generous quantities of soap, moisturizing hand-cream and shampoo because the water is very saline. Water is heated by on-demand gas.

ACTIVITIES

Morning wilderness walks with our guide and trackers

Here you will 'read the newspaper' of the night before – seeing the animal spoors, being taught about plants and desert life. The distance covered depends on the abilities and interest of the guests.

Visit the crafting village

Guests are invited to meet the crafters at the school and get an insight into the modern lives of the local Bushman community, as well as an opportunity to purchase crafts from the original artists. The school is set up to give elders an opportunity to pass on traditional skills to the younger generation who do not necessarily live a traditional lifestyle. Guests will thus experience the interaction between ancient traditions and modern lifestyles.

Game Drives

We offer afternoon or evening game drives, giving guests an opportunity to see the 'dune streets' and the game and birds in the area. This is a desert park and sightings are unpredictable and fascinating.

An optional Auob River drive is also available and needs to be pre-booked at the time you make your accommodation booking.

Sundowners on the dunes

A special treat for everyone is the evening 'sundowners' where guests are able to listen to the sunset from the top of a dune on the opposite side of the salt pan to the Lodge.

Night sky viewing & stargazing

With no ambient light pollution, the night sky is spectacular at !Xaus Lodge. Learn about the constellations with your naked eye. Take a quiet moment to understand that "By day we see the world, and at night we see the universe."

CHILD POLICY:

For safety considerations, children under the age of 12 may not participate on the morning wilderness walk.
